in 1995, 70 of the population had access to safe water and 55 of the population had access to sanitation.

The organism is regularly used for the production of natural flavor compounds that are widely used in the food industry.

Smokeless tobacco contains a lot of sugar which forms an acid that may eat away the tooth enamel, causing cavities and mouth sores.

The service monitors bandwidth usage, record rates, and generate traffic report in txt, csv, and html formats every n seconds.

The aim is to achieve maximum seizure control with minimum side effects, using the lowest possible dose of a single drug.